Care worker

Also known as Care assistant, support worker, nursing home assistant.

If you're helping someone who needs support to live at home duties could include:

- help with washing and dressing
- make food or help with eating
- do household jobs, like washing clothes and shopping
- monitor their weight and record any concerns they have

While employed as a care worker you can develop your skills by training in specific areas, like autism awareness, communication skills or supporting people with dementia. With experience, you can become a lead care worker. You can also move into more senior jobs, like managing people or services.

You can get into this job through:

- a college course
- an apprenticeship
- volunteering
- applying directly
